

NEWBORN HORSE MEN.

WILLIAM EASTON, Manager.

BEN BRUSH THE COLOR.

Bramble's Game Son Wins the Kentucky Derby in a Furious Finish.

His Triumph Due to the Superior Horsemanship Displayed by Willie Sims.

THOUSANDS WATCH THE RACE.

Another Victory for Michael F. Dwyer's Colors Scored by the Sprinter, Harry Reed, in the First Race.

Louisville, Ky., May 6.—The running of the twenty-second Kentucky Derby was the most exciting race of the season yet. The day was beautiful, and every available conveyance was brought into use. And those who came were satisfied, for they saw one of the best contested races ever run over this course. Ben Brush, the game son of Bramble, winning by a short head, through a desperate riding. Ben Eder was the horse who gave him such a hard race, and Taber, who rode him, did all in his power to get his mount home in front, amid the shouts of the crowd, who were anxious to see a Western horse win.

The Derby this year has created more than the usual interest, and everybody expected to see a great race, though nearly all conceded it to Ben Brush, who went to the post at 1 to 2. Eight started, Will Wallace at the head of the pack, followed by the Winner in the Lokl, Sir Vassar and Rewarder were scratched. There was some 3 to 5 against Ben Brush, but it was soon robbed up. Ben Brush, the best at post time, with First Mate second choice at 5 to 1 and well played for the place. Ben Eder was back to 10, Semper Ego to 12 and Ben Eder to 15 to 1.

The horses were started with the flag and had been at the post fifteen minutes when Colonel Chalmers, riding for Ben Eder, started. Semper Ego showing in front as they swung around the bend, with the others in a close bunch. During the stand, Thorpe led First Mate to go to the front under a pull, with Semper Ego, The Winner and Ben Brush next. Ben Brush took position he kept during the remainder of the race.

Thorpe kept First Mate in front until the first mile was covered, when Ben Brush, Semper Ego and Ben Eder came to him, the four horses swinging into the stretch. Ben Brush was next, followed by Semper Ego, Thorpe led First Mate to go to the front under a pull, with Semper Ego, The Winner and Ben Brush next. Ben Brush took position he kept during the remainder of the race.

The Dragon was two lengths behind First Mate, with the Winner a poor sixth, and Brown Dick's Ulysses beaten off. The time, 1:57.3/4, was very good.

The winner was loudly cheered. His owner, M. F. Dwyer, and his son occupied positions in the time's stand. Ben Brush is next, followed by Semper Ego, Thorpe led First Mate to go to the front under a pull, with Semper Ego, The Winner and Ben Brush next. Ben Brush took position he kept during the remainder of the race.

The runner of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

ELLERDIE WINS EASILY.

One of Mr. Appleby's Homebred Youngsters, Heavily Backed, Earns Brackets at Aqueduct.

If attendance continue up to their present standard at Aqueduct, President Rolley and his associates will have no reason to complain of their preliminary Spring meeting. Fully twenty-five hundred people were at the track yesterday. The racing was close and exciting. Mr. Pettigill was in good form, getting the horses away promptly. In the fourth race, especially, an almost perfect start was effected.

There were some little further, though perhaps unimportant, changes in the betting arrangements. Members of the newly formed betting club drew for positions. They had the pleasure of his second race of the club were obliged to be content with such places in the enclosure as were left. In explanation of this departure, it was said that to give preferred positions to members of the betting club, all of whom are responsible men, would be in a measure protection to the public. The change at any rate seemed to have the indorsement of about all the leading men in the enclosure.

The day's sport was notable in that the first race, a good trial of the season, was run through. This was Mr. L. O. Appleby's filly Ellerdie, by Knight of Ellerslie-Tudie, in the second race. She was heavily backed, George Wheeler leading the onslaught and forcing her price down from 5 to 1 to 7 to 5. Ellerdie won very easily in rather slow time for the half mile, 0:52.4. She is one of Mr. Appleby's own breeding, a fine, big, rangy filly, and may probably be a useful sort later on. Arthur K., who finished second, ran a good race, getting away last. Charade and Frig were both well backed for the first event, the former being apparently the preference of most of the punters. Frig forced the running, Phoebeus second, and Charade third. Phoebeus came up on the rail. The latter seemed to have the race in hand up to the last hundred yards, when Ellerdie came with a rush on Charade, and won by a very close race, and one in which there was a chance for argument, because Charade finished on one side of the track and Ellerdie on the other. Charade got the verdict.

In the third race The Native was backed by a few who were not so sure of her work. He won by a head, although his headstall slipped, after a hot contest with Beloved and Irish Rebel. The last got away last, and Beloved was the runner in the stretch, where she began to stop. The Native, it will be remembered, was bred by Mr. J. O. Donner, of Ramapo Stud. Mr. Donner refused $10,000 for him early last season as a two-year-old, but he broke down in the spring, and was sold for $2,000. He was a moderate figure, George Newton, who has been handling him this Spring, intended to give him an application of the firing iron. But he showed a fast half mile, and was persevered with. Such are the uncertainties of the turf.

Lillie Mills, favorite for the fourth race, led into the stretch. There Alakuma came and drew away last. In the race, Alakuma drew clear of the others in the run home, and from the furlong pole it was a hard race, with Lillie Mills setting the going which was by a very narrow margin. A sixteenth from home Ben Eder was a neck in front, and Ben Brush next. Lillie Mills was First Mate cut it badly in the last quarter and Semper Ego beat him five lengths for third money.

The Dragon was two lengths behind First Mate, with the Winner a poor sixth, and Brown Dick's Ulysses beaten off. The time, 1:57.3/4, was very good.

The winner was loudly cheered. His owner, M. F. Dwyer, and his son occupied positions in the time's stand.

Ben Brush is next, followed by Semper Ego, Thorpe led First Mate to go to the front under a pull, with Semper Ego, The Winner and Ben Brush next. Ben Brush took position he kept during the remainder of the race.

The runner of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to a horse of moderate calibre, as, for example, Claret, in 1869, yet the winner usually figures in the list of high-class handicappers. Since 1882, when Apollo was first past the post, the race has been won by the following horses: 1882, Leontides; 1883, Buchanan; 1885, Joe Cotton; 1886, Ben Ali; 1887, Montrose; 1888, Leontides; 1889, Buchanan; 1890, Buchanan; 1891, Kingman; 1892, Art; 1893, Lookout; 1894, Chant; and 1895, Hail.

The running of the Derby at Louisville is one of the chief events of Western turf. While the Derby is occasionally accredited to